

Roger Waters - Hello, I Love You

Hello, I Love You

“ Hello, I Love You” (Waters)

Have you heard?
It was on the news.
Your child can read you like a bedtime story.
Like a Magazine.
Like a has-been out to grass.
Like afternoon T.V.
Why is my life going by so fast?

Hello, I love you,
Is there anybody in there?
Put down the phone,
Shut up the shop,
Make all their techno babble stop.
We'll find a short-waved frequency,
The wave connecting you and me.
Hello, I love you.

Have you heard?
It was on the news.
The general staff can't figure out,
Is this campaign win or lose?
Life is long, but it goes fast,
The kids will have to separate,
Their future from our past.

Hello, I love you.
Is there anybody in there?
The ghosts are walking by my side,
I feel their love I feel their pride,
For I have built a bridge or two,
Bridges between me and you.

Hello, I love you.
Have you heard?
It was on the news.
You can make your peace,
On the dark side of the moon.
I'll see you there,
We can rock 'n' roll.
We can make our choice,
We can say goodbye or say hello.

Hello, I love you.
Is there anybody in there?

Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...

Is there anybody in there?
Is there anybody in there?
Is there anybody in there?

Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...

Hello...
Hello...
Hello...
Hello...

Is there anybody in there?

This song was released by Silva Screen Records on 12th March 2007. It was part of the soundtrack to the film "The Last Mimzy."
