

Roger Waters - When The Wind Blows

When The Wind Blows 30th October 1986

“ The Fallout” (Waters)

(Man:) "Blimey! I...I suppose...that was it".

(Woman:) "Wasn't it bright?"

(Man:) "Yea, terrific. You--you get terrific light with those bombs. Listen! A dog!"

(Woman:) "What does the fallout look like, dear?"

(Man:) "I don't know. The government director neglected to mention what it would look like. I expect it would look a bit like snow does, only grey. Very quiet. I expect they're all are having a good lie-in after the bombing".

(Woman:) "Terrible smell of burning".

(Man:) "Yeah. Well there's bound to be. That's logical..."

(Woman:) "It's like ...roast meat".

(Man:) "Yes, it does. Roast dinners. I expect everybody will be having their Sunday dinners early this week, due to the unexpected circumstances..."

(Man:) "A cloud coming up. Looks like rain. We'll be alright for water now for a while, my dear".

(Woman:) "Do you think rainwater is alright to drink?"

(Man:) "Oh yes, of course it is. There's nothing purer than rainwater, is there? Everybody knows that".

(Woman:) "Oh, look! My hair's coming out".

(Man:) "Hair's coming out".

(Woman:) "My hair's coming out".

(Woman:) "My hair's coming out".

Instrumental

